

CHINA UNIVERSITY
PETROLEUM, BEIJING

How to find a supervisor?

New in CUPB and lost about what to do next? Here are the steps to follow in order to successfully find a supervisor:

1. Choose your area of interest.

(e.g. majoring in Petroleum Engineering, interested in Production Engineering and would like to specialize in Hydraulic Fracturing)

2. Prepare your study plan, CV, and transcripts.

3. Access to our university website, the department links are shown below, check the research background and interests of our professors (click on the name of the department):

- a) College of Geosciences
- b) College of Petroleum Engineering
- c) College of Chemical Engineering and Environment
- d) College of Mechanical and Transportation Engineering
- e) College of Safety and Ocean Engineering
- f) College of New Energy and Materials
- g) College of Information Science and Engineering \(Professors\)
College of Information Science and Engineering \(Associate Professors\)
- h) College of Science

- i) School of Economics and Management

 - k) School of Foreign Languages
 - l) College of Sports, Humanities and Arts
 - m) College of Artificial Intelligence
 - n) College of Geophysics
 - o) The Unconventional Petroleum Research Institute
4. Choose the professor according to your area of interest, in order to work under his/her supervision.
 5. Write an email communicating your interest in his/her research and share your study plan with your ideas, as well as, ask him/her for an appointment and further interview.
 - ❖ We recommend writing the subject of your email in Chinese, using Baidu, Bing, Google or any translation system.
 - ❖ Attach your CV, study plan, and transcripts.
 6. If the professor does not reply your email, do not need to give up. You can call his/her office and talk to him/her in person. Do not forget to send your CV, study plan, and transcripts.
